

2009 Keynote Speaker LARRY CSONKA

Super Bowl VIII MVP

Member of the 'perfect' 1972 Dolphins
Pro Football Hall of Famer

Host/Producer: outdoor adv. program 'North to Alaska'

On the morning of October 29th, Larry Csonka will provide an inspiring Keynote Address for the 2009 NORA Conference. NORA attendees will leave the conference with a renewed confidence to strive for perfection in any endeavor.

Larry Csonka and power running became synonymous in the NFL of the 1970's. As a player with the powerhouse Miami Dolphins he charged so tenaciously through defenses that his name became a household word and his nickname, Zonk, became a new American verb. From 1971-1973, he led the Dolphins to three Super Bowl appearances, earning All-Pro and Pro Bowl honors along the way. He and halfback Jim Kiick were affectionately known as "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid," and were key players in the Dolphins' perfect 17-0 season in 1972. Csonka earned the MVP award of the Dolphins' Super Bowl VIII victory over the Minnesota Vikings by rushing 33 times for 145 yards and 2 touchdowns. In 1973, he was voted Super Athlete of the Year by the Professional Football Writers Association. In 1987, he was enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in only his second year of eligibility.

Larry continues to work in the "public eye" as host and producer of an outdoor adventure program. He currently hosts and produces "NAPA's North to Alaska", which airs on the Versus Network. These programs showcase Larry's experience as a fisherman and hunter and his enthusiasm for outdoor sports and conservation.

Larry Csonka has a tremendous story to tell and backs it up with a warm sincere approach that will have you on the edge of your seat. Larry will speak about the game, the players, coaching and starring moments of a great career. You will delight in his humor and leave feeling that they have always known him.

Larry Csonka is more than a retired football player; he is a legend. Make sure you register today to attend this amazing conference. Larry Csonka will help NORA celebrate 25 years as an organization dedicated to serving the interests of the liquid recycling industry.
